

ABSTRACT

Singlish is an English language which is based on spoken and written creole colloquial in Singapore. Creole is mixed between a variety of languages which are growing because the diversity of speakers who still defend themselves with their own language, with no one willing to budge. This study aims to provide the reader about how and why discourse particles and social factors such as age, setting, and social relationships or social class affects language style of the main characters in I not Stupid Movie. To achieve these goals, Singlish spoken by the characters in I not Stupid Movie is taken as data. The analysis result shows that discourse particles and social factors influence someone's language style when speaking with other people.

Keywords : discourse particles, style, and social factors.